

„Catalogue Edition 10“ Cards for Valdora

SIX SPECIAL COMMISSIONS FOR VALDORA

The standard Valdora rules apply, with the following changes:

Game Preparation: The special commissions are placed next to each other face up beside the game board.

Obtain Commissions: If a player chooses the action "Obtain Commissions" while residing in a random city with a commission book, the special commissions beside the game board are also available to be used.

The special commissions are not allocated to any specific commission book.

A special commission costs 2 coins (two silver coloured bands).

A player may only have 1 incomplete special commission. The special commission counts as an incomplete commission. If a player wants to obtain a commission although he has already reached the maximum number of incomplete commissions, he may return a special commission. That special commission is placed back with the others beside the game board.

Complete Commissions: When completing special commissions, a player may choose to bring the item to any of the two depicted patrons. He is not required to decide for the patron when obtaining the commission. Regardless of which patron the player has completed a commission for, the player may choose between the two colours when hiring the craftsman.

Advice: If all tiles of the chosen colour are already allocated, the player receives a tile of the next available colour as usual.

A player is also rewarded craftsman tiles in the patron's colour for any "regular" commission completed on the same turn.

Special Case in the game of Valdora extra – Special Card 4: The special commission costs 2 coins even if it is the fourth commission the player has obtained.

Ein Geschicklichkeitsspiel der Sonderklasse! Mit den Hämmern schlagen die Spieler von unten gegen das mit einem Leinentuch bespannte Spielfeld und treiben so ihre Kugeln an. Ein toller Spaß für die ganze Familie.
